Ribstone Ladies Working Hard For Their Fall Fair

The Ribstone Women's Institute will hold their 2nd Annual Fall Fair on Saturday, September 25th 1920, in the Municipal Hall, Ribstone.

Last year as all our readers will remember the enterprising members of the R.W.I. organized and carried out successfully the first Fall Fair to be held in that district, although they had not long been organized and were not a large body, and they were also handicapped by poor crops. This year the ladies are again holding a Fall Fair which will be better in every respect from the last year's venture.

The organizing and carrying out of a fair entails a vast amount of work and the ladies are entitled to all the support and encouragement that can possibly be given them in helping to make this, their second Annual Fall Fair a great success.

We would call your attention to the Knitted Gloves in Wool 1.00 .75 .50 and Section 26, Knitted Mitts in Wool 1.00 .75 .50. This section was accidentally omitted from the prize list.

We would also call your special attention to the heading of the Poultry Class, No. 6, which should read and not Dressed Poultry.

LIVE POULTRY

All intending exhibitors should get their entries in early as this greatly facilitates the work of the Secretary and helps for the good working and management and the success of the undertaking.

Ribstone Notes

A Correction

In another portion of this issue we have pleasure in publishing a letter calling attention to a mis-statement regarding the priority of formation of basket ball teams.

We are delighted to receive this correction and publish same. It is beyond the power of the press to entirely avoid publishing inaccurate reports.

We would invite both the Roros and Edlinglass teams to appoint a news correspondent that we may be able to keep the public in touch with their doings.

Have you purchased sense yet?

Farming Pays In Chauvin District

It is a common saying that the farmer is the most independent man on earth, but where can there be a more independent class of farmers than those in Chauvin district, where the average yield of oats is easily 55 bushels per acre. Of course many of the farmers have heavier yields while others have lighter, but 55 bushels is the estimate made by those who know what they are talking about.

To those conversant with the quality of the soil here, the announcement of such a yield does not come as a surprise, but is its value fully realized?

The market price for oats is from 65 to 70 cents per bushel, so that the farmer receives from $36.00 to $39.00 per acre—almost the price that is paid for some of the best land in the district. This means that a farmer can pay for his land with the first two year's crop.

Mr. Cubbitt has the Security Elevator all cleaned up and is now ready for business.

The Prohibition ReReferendum committee held a meeting last night.

"I hear that Mr and Mrs Windery were very angry with the driver when their car overturned"

"Well, naturally, they were quite a bit out and very much upset."

Evening Classes

Proposed: Get Into Touch With Mr. Laws

Mr. Laws, the Principal of the Chauvin Schools is prepared to conduct evening classes during the winter season, if sufficient students express a desire to take advantage of secondary education. Evening Classes are conducted in all the larger towns, and this would bring the same opportunities to the rural aspirants for more and better education.

Chauvin School Trustees Meeting

Regular meeting of the trustees held at the School House at 8 o'clock p.m. September 7th 1920.

All members of the Board were present, Dr. Folkens in the chair. Mr. Laws was also present.

Minutes of last regular and two special meetings were read, and Mrs. Saul moved, Mr. Foxwell seconded, that same be adopted as read. Carried.

Reports:—Chairman reported that the foundation to the High School rooms had been completed satisfactorily, that the gravel had been hauled for leveling up around the buildings, but that same had not yet been put into place; but that Mr. Cahill had promised. (Continued on inner page)

West Will Reach Enormous Crop

Over two hundred and fifty million bushels, is the estimated wheat crop of the three western provinces, according to an estimate of the C.P.R. Agricultural agent, who has just completed a tour of the three provinces. Alberta has a big lead on the other provinces as to yield per acre, his estimate being 14.5 for Manitoba and an average of 13.87, 14.5 for Saskatchewan and an average of 9,430,000 and 25 for Alberta with an average of 3,654,000. This makes a total acreage to wheat of 15,771,000, with a general average of 15.3 and an estimated total crop of 250,451,000.

This figure is 10,000,000 more than last year, but is still quite a way from the 363,000,000 of 1915.

Wheat VS Oats

During the last few years the acreage sown in Alberta to wheat, as a result of the strong demand for that grain, exceeded that sown to oats. But previously the latter exceeded the former and there has been a considerable move this season back to the old in our province. The average yield per acre for oats over the ten-year period 1908-1918 in Alberta was 36.23 bushels as compared with 18 for wheat. With these yields and with the acreage of the two grains about equal the difference in money value between the two would not be very great.

In an exceptional year the average for oats is, of course, much higher. In 1915 it went 57.65 bushels for the whole province, and there is reason to hope that this year's production will not be far behind this. In some districts this figure was much exceeded in 1915.

Here And There

Prohibition is going to take a lot of trade away from the embalmers. After a man has kicked up 'squirrel' for a few years he will be pretty well embalmed before he dies.

The advance of the Poles shows the uncertainty of war, and also that something has happened somewhere, either before or after the war, since the Polish retreat of which the outside public does not know at the present time.

The prediction of the minister of agriculture that this will be the greatest crop in the history of the province will doubtless come true. If the province had a population ten times as great as it now has and the settlement ten times as dense think what the production would be.

The Bohsewki were prepared to write the obituary over the tomb of Poland, when suddenly the patient rises from his bed and begins to kick the visitor out of the Polish country. The revival of Poland may mean a more equitable peace.

There would be more salt than anything else in the world if all the rubber-necks got the punishment meted out to Lot's wife.

Harvesting has now been in full swing throughout west for a week, and will likely be entirely completed during the next ten days. In this district at least there has been no damage from frost and very little from hail or other cause and the West generally seems to have been pretty free from these injurious eccentricities.

Therefore, the grain should be of excellent quality and bring the best prices going. The aggregate yield may not show the remarkable increase of some preceding years, for government reports have indicated that the acreage under wheat crop is not as large as last year's acreage. Still, there will be a vast amount of grain of the three kinds mostly grown on the prairies, and if the quality is on in supposing the money value of it will total a great amount. Some authorities have estimated that 350,000,000 dollars will be required to affect the sale and handling of the crop. The banks claim that the conservative course they have been following during the summer was with the view of accumulating the funds necessary to facilitate these transactions. The time has about arrived when they will have to begin to shovel out the cash—has already arrived

It may be said since the first shipment of new wheat has passed through Winnipeg. Whether the above estimate is over or under the mark, the sum which will change hand through the disposal of the crop will be immense, and business conditions generally should soon begin to feel the influence of the enlarged circulation.

An air of success can never replace real ability, it can only accompany it.

ANOTHER FRONT PORCH CAMPAIGN

The photo shows Mrs. Warren G. Harding wife of the Republican Presidential candidate entertaining a little visitor to the front porch of the Harding home Marion, Ohio. Many photers of Marion bring their babies to greet the possible next First Lady of the land. Though childless Mrs. Harding is very fond of children and never tires of entertaining her little visitors.

Machine Shocks Grain

Hand shocking grain will soon be a thing of the past, and there will be no more need for the annual call for help to harvest the oat and wheat crops.

Recently a machine for shocking grain was tried out near Ouelven, Iowa and from the time the first bundle was dropped into it, the new "equitation" demonstrated its success, according to the Ouelven Iowa.

The new machine is an auxiliary attachment to the binder, and is attached in place of the old bundle carrier. The bundle drops into a forked arm that swings the bundle back to a carrier, dropping such bundle in a different place until the carrier is filled, when a giant needle swings here so the dries are finding it rather monotonous. Some papers assert that the boot-leggers, whiskey runners and still keepers, whoever they are and some druggists are in favor of the referendum which leads the average person to stop, look and listen as to what consequences may be after the vote, which is reasonably sure to carry.

One difficulty with the enforcement of the Liquor Act in that while it is undoubtedly law and therefore subject to observance as other laws it is impossible to make the majority of the people believe that breaking that particular law, either in the letter or the spirit is a heinous offense. It is true that the Police make an honest effort to enforce it. Magistrates, as heavy fines or jail sentences; but it still remains true that people in general are content to wink at violations of the Liquor Act. This is not confined to the common herd of the kind either. Many of the top-notchers, those who administer justice with this province, break the Liquor Act practically every day of the week. In this respect the Liquor Act is like all other summary legislation with ventures to tell people what they shall eat, drink or wear. It fails in its purpose because of making a crime of that which most people refuse to regard as a crime.

Nevertheless the referendum prohibiting interprovincial shipments of liquor is certain to pass, whether the majority is large or small. As to its after effects they may be quite as excellent as portrayed by the Social Service League but we may be permitted to express a doubt about it.

The Growing Season

Coming as it did after a rainless long winter, the growing season of 1920 has attracted attention, and really caused one to think that it was something better than the average. Especially is this the case when one has seen the harvest fields around Chauvin.

The growing season here is taken the months of May, June, July and August.

In reality the season has been as near the average taking the mean of the past twenty-five years, as an average, that can be imagined, as the weather data collected at Edmonton during the past four months show and the growth of this season is not more than a fair sample of what could happen with a reasonably early spring and a growing season of similar qualities to this year.

The weather man figures explain much that is mysterious to those who are either new to the country or who have only read of it from afar.

A conscience needs exercise to keep it in a healthy condition.

Danger Is Emphasized

Warning of the danger to life as a result of carelessness in leaving guns loaded, is being issued by the provincial police, consequent to several fatalities that have occurred recently.

With the opening of the shooting season, persons generally cannot take too much care. The magazines of all rifles should be emptied as soon as the hunting trip is finished. It is a terrible thing for a person to lose his or her life as the result of the carelessness of others and too much precaution cannot be taken. Leaving either a rifle or a shot gun should be made a criminal offence.

If the shis do not conserve a little there won't be any paint left for the houses next door.

A man's idea of a good coat is one who will prescribe a pint of whiskey for him.

Govt. Loans Heavy

It is estimated that close to $275,000 will be loaned by the province this year, under the regulations of the Live Stock Encouragement Act. Already $125,000 has been guaranteed and applications for the remaining amount indicated are in the hands of the live stock commissioner.

Many farmers who have borrowed money under this act, are this year buying milk cows. Many of them were not in a prosperous condition after the hard winter last year, and find that by buying a milking cow, they can start next day to make money. They have the ready money with which to pay their grocer and also have an asset with which to go to the bank to get money for other developments this winter.

Don't believe all you hear—especially when it is about yourself.

A girl in far-away Tasmania (I get letters from all over the world, it seems to me) wrote me the other day and asked: "Dog, do you know why a dog with a broken tail is the envy of all other dogs?" I didn't know, much as I know about dogs, so she told me: "Because every dog has his day, but such a dog has a weak-end."

Now, what do you think of that as a dog conundrum? And then she added: "But you are even better yet, because you have a month-end!" Wow! But those are smart girls in little Tasmania!

It is comparatively easy to wear a smile on your face when things are going smoothly, but you show your true worth by the way in which you behave when things look black and dreary.

Do We Need

Good Roads?

The world is looking upon people and things from the standpoint of assets and liabilities, not figuring on or by a money basis, but with the idea of an adequate return from an investment, whether it be brains brawn or money. The return may be in any one of the thousand and one things which go to make up the sum total of what we are all seeking, happiness. The automobile has demonstrated to the farmer and business man that their aims and ideals are one and the same, and that their social and financial interests are identical; that they are linked together in a common cause—general betterment.

The business man knows it is to his interest that the farmer be prosperous and happy; that the better the farms in his range of operations the better his business will be. The farmer knows that a large and prosperous community within his range is an advantage to him. They are assets to each other and are a mutual investment. The longer the range of the farmer becomes the greater is this asset to him; the longer the range of the business man the more valuable is the asset to him.

What makes the range? What is this link connecting the two? Good roads! The better the road the larger the investment and consequently the greater the asset.

Government investigation gives the following authoritative figures regarding the benefit of good roads: "The percentage of increase in the value of rural property due to the improvement of the roads on which the land fronted ranged from 49 to 100 per cent. The best of haulage was reduced 17.8 cents per ton mile. The school attendance increased 10 per cent."

Good roads cut distances in half. A farm twenty miles from a railroad is brought within five miles by means of good roads. The farmers were among the first to sense the economic and social value of improved highways. Good roads invariably increase the prosperity of the farming communities by enabling the farmer to haul his crops to market when most convenient and when the state of the market warrants, and not merely when the condition of the road will permit.

Good highways greatly increase the happiness at the same time are the means of reducing the wear and tear on harness, wagons etc., very materially. The farming communities where the wagon roads are good and the means of communication easy are an increase in the average school attendance of from fifty-nine to 100 in districts where the roads are improved as against five in 100, where they were not improved.

As a factor in increasing the country school attendance good roads are well worth while. Investigation shows invariably the most prosperous and up-to-date.

It was the splendid highways of France which saved the day and forced the German retreat at the Marne by enabling General Gallieni to send reinforcements quickly from Paris by automobile.

Good roads tend to annihilate distance. They transform the waste places to fertile lands. They result in better farms and more cultivated land, better crops and cheaper transportation, more and better schools, larger attendance, better health and prompt medical attention, more neighborliness, better rural social conditions and undreamed of no means degree to better farming, better business and better living.

What promises to be the biggest re-tribution scheme in the world is being launched by the Queensland Labour Government in Australia. A large area of land is to be thrown open and fur railways constructed to open

Fall Plowing

Plowing early in the fall liberates more plant food for the spring crop and conserves more moisture. By loosening the surface soil, thus allowing the air to penetrate, the soil particles which contain phosphorus, potassium and lime are caused to oxidize, which sets free these elements for the ally are very complex and are practically of no benefit to the crop until they are acted upon by the air, the solutions in the soil, and plant juices so as to decompose them and make them much simpler. Fall plowing has a tendency to let the rains percolate into the soil better, which tends to dissolve and break up the compounds for the use of the spring crop.

Bacteria which are found in the soil in countless numbers, generally work better where oxygen from the air is readily available, and these in turn break up the organic matter of the soil into simpler compound, liberating nitrates or nitrogen food for the plant.

This is one of the most essential elements for the early growth of the plant. It is often noticed that spring plowing will not cause crops to lodge so badly as fall plowing. This is explained by nitrogen being set free to a larger extent in the loose, porous, fall-plowed than in the more compact soil.

The moisture problem is also a valuable one from the standpoint of productivity of the soil. As stated above, by opening up the soil the rains percolate much more rapidly into the soil, while there is a mulch formed on the surface which tends to prevent the water from the sub-soil going directly to the surface and being evaporated. Early fall plowing makes a less violent disturbance, saving the water for the crop in the spring.

Those who have practised summer plowing know that it increases chances for a good yield the following season, and this is largely due to liberation of plant food by the soil and conservation of moisture. Fall plowing is very similar, only the soil is not quite so long in lying about these changes as in the case of summer following. Where possible it is nearly always advisable to plow as early in the fall as possible.

Grain Rush Earlier

The West has reaped this year the largest crop of wheat in its history. An almost unbroken stretch of the finest weather possible has allowed the harvesting and threshing of this crop to be carried on without interruption, in consequence the real 'rush' of the grain movement began earlier this season than usual.

As the result of these favoring conditions grain is now going through Winnipeg in a volume about thirty per cent. larger than that of last year. This of course is a most satisfactory circumstance an occasion for congratulations all around, and one also for the appointment of all due credit to any and all who had to do with bringing it about.

Every four years we hear that the country is going straight to hell if the other political party is elected. But the old country manages to keep afloat somehow.

The samples of wheat turned in so far are very excellent, which is also satisfactory. With quantity and quality both right, there is little left to be desired in this country.

Chauvin High School Breezes

Well folks here we are again, with reports of more success. We, that is the basketball team, beat Edinlassie again last Saturday, and we're not at all conceded, On no. But then, you see all Edinlassie players were not there, and of course they did not stand the chance. Mr. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Grant Saul, and Miss ..... did their best but the Chauvin team put it all over them.

After the game, we all, on the invitation of our most splendid referee, went over to that gentleman's home, and spent a most enjoyable evening in honor of the occasion. But we will say this, our opponents are real sports, and they took part in the games as vigorously as did we. Fizz and Buzz, Jacob and Rachel, etc., were the order of the evening. Mrs. Laws then served a refreshing luncheon, after which we sang many old songs, with Phoebe at the organ. Later in the evening Mr. G. Saul played the organ. We may freely and without exaggeration say that it was the most enjoyable evening spent by us for some time.

Everybody likes basketball, and no wonder. They all enjoy a practice wouldn't they? There was a fine crowd of sports on the grounds on Thursday evening, and ever one played well. Two or three of the C.H.S. girls anticipated a veryplesant(?) trip to Wainwright this week end, for the purpose of training to better manners, some very offense moles. They were denied this very pleasant trip, at least, for this week, as Dr. Lockwood's time is already occupied. Flossie is now burning the mid-with the C. H. S. girls. Who We will have a perfectly trained team of men playing here soon.

We noticed that during the last storm, there were several bluebirds killed by a passing train. One bird was found to be alive, but with a broken wing. We made use of the opportunity and found that a bluebird is an insect eater, and that its feet are composed of four toes, three of which point forwards, and the remaining one backwards, on each foot.

Here is something for those who like to know the flowers of Alberta. That small yellow flower seen growing all over the country, and which is described by some as being like a daisy, is a yellow aster. It is a low growing herb, of the same family as the sunflower, the Compositae.

We are all anxiously awaiting the arrival of school buses. Either the Government or the book stores are not attending to their business.

We have started our Zoological collection, and have a salamander pickled in alcohol.

We all enjoyed our visit to Mr. Herbert's home on Wednesday evening, Eleanor and Winnie and we really enjoyed ourselves.

Oui, Mes enfants, our French is improving as far as pronunciation goes, anyway.

Letters To The Editor

A Correction

Who follows Roros or Edinlassie? I wish to correct a statement made by some enthusiastic ball player who favoured your paper with an item from his pen.

The enterprising youth of the Roros district gave a concert, obtained the funds for a basketball outfit. Later a girls and boys team were formed. Being desirous of competition a suggestion was made to the Edinlassie youth to follow their plan.

Roros had had considerable ball games practice, etc. when Edinlassie some weeks later came to witness a game and highly pleased with the amateurism, and game decided to form a team and start basketball.

As soon as they were ready Roros invited them over and showed them how to play—We shall omit the score, please.

Now, we read in the Chauvin Chronicle, where Edinlassie's credit as the "initial team" is beg to die.

Whether it is of very great benefit or value to the community or not I hesitate to discuss, but give the credit to where it belongs, Roros is the "Initial Team."

To Protect Birds

By order-in-council on the recommendation of the Minister of Interior, certain areas of Alberta have been set aside as a bird sanctuaries for the purpose of furthering the bird protection in accordance with the migratory Birds Convention Act. It is claimed that the Great Plains region of Canada is the most important breeding ground for wild water-fowl. Careful investigation has been made by an eminent zoologist of the area occupied by this bird life in Alberta, and his report has been the basis for the selecting of these bird sanctuaries. It has been pointed out that the United States has created a series of sanctuaries to protect the wild fowl on their migration to the south and east and has also set aside large areas to protect them in their winter feeding ground.

New Scheme Of Stallion Inspection

Saskatchewan has adopted a new system of examining stallions for licenses. Up to the present official examiners have been sent out, stallion owners to examine the horses on the owners premises. This year the examiners premises. This year the examiners are visiting central points and the stallions are being brought in for examination. The licenses are good for three years, at the end of which time all stallions must be re-examined.

Cattlemen Extend Their Organization

The scope of the Alberta Cattlemen's Protective Association is to be extended so as to cover the livestock industry in all its branches in Western Canada. The title of the association has been changed to that of the Stock Protective Association of Western Canada. These decisions were made at the annual meeting held in Calgary on July 2nd.

Govt Distribute Farm Crop Studies

To Retrieve Drought Areas

The Saskatchewan Government has appointed a committee to make a survey of the south-western part of the province with the object of determining more successful methods of agriculture in those districts that have suffered two or three successive crop failures on account of drought.

Shorthorn Breeders Increase fees

At several meetings of the Shorthorn breeders Association held in Albert Saskatchewan, and Manitoba, resolutions were passed asking the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders Association to double the registration and transfer fees, the extra money accruing from this increase to be returned to the provincial Associations to be used as prize money at the smaller fairs. The recommendation will receive the attention of the Dominion Association in due course. There has however been a general increase in the fees and registration in nearly all the Live Stock Associations working under the Canadian Live Stock Records. The Shorthorn fees are now as follows:—To members: animals under one month, $1 for every registration; animals over twelve months and under five years, $10 for each registration. Animals over five years cannot be registered. To non members the registration of animals under twelve months is $2 for each registration and for animals over twelve months $10 for each registration.

Outfits Arriving

The plentiful nature of this harvest is best indicated by the number of separators and engines arriving this season. At the moment of writing, there are five separators and three tractors on the track to be unloaded. In addition to these ten separators have already unloaded, and there are more due to arrive within a few days.

Amongst these machines there are a number of the smaller outfits but the majority are the standard sized machines.

Sask Govt Purchase

Stock For Farmers

The Agricultural department of Saskatchewan is purchasing 100 good young grade dairy cows and heifers in Eastern Canada at an estimated cost of $10,000, for re-sale on easy terms to bona-fide dairy farmers. Only farmers at present engaged or entering the dairy business will and agree to have these cows bred to pure bred blood to effect a purchase. Mr. A. J. Clark of the provincial Live Stock Branch, is at present in Eastern Canada selecting and buying the dairy cows. He is trying to secure good hunking short horns, but failing these he will purchase grade Holsteins and Ayrshires.

Mr G. M. Beattie left for B.C. in order to visit his brother, Alex, who is seriously ill, resultant of gas poisoning whilst on active service.

ARTLAND ARGUS

We regret to learn that Mrs. W. E. S. Smith, who went to Biggar on the 28th Aug. to attend a meeting, was seized the same evening with a sudden illness that necessitated his immediate removal to the hospital.

Subsequent reports advise improvement in his condition and that he is now on the way to recovery.

Mr A. W. Clark has been appointed buyer for the Security Elevator at this point.

We have pleasure in announcing that Artland has been placed on the Grand Trunk Pacific Circuit of the Dominion Chautauquas.

The Artland Chautauqua, according to a communication from the general manager, will extend over a period of three days and will be held at a date to be arranged during the coming summer Chautauqua season of 1921.

The price of the tickets will be $2, covering the six entertainments during the three days.

We feel sure that large crowds will attend from surrounding districts, who will avail themselves of the opportunity for enjoying the entertainments that the Chautauquas are so justly famed for.

Mr. A. M. Blue, Superintendent of agencies for the Canada Nat. Fire Co., was a visitor in Artland last week.

Lang Crushed

E. B. Lang met with a serious accident last Thursday evening. He was feeding the horses, which were still attached to the binder. For some reason one of the horses took fright with it he others started. Lan who was in front of the horses found himself unable to hold them. He was thrown down and the horses and binder passed over him.

The unfortunate victim was able, after a severe struggle to reach the Tooth residence in a thoroughly exhausted condition.

Dr Polkins, who was quickly summoned, found Lang to have received severe scalp wounds and injuries to his leg, a broken rib with bruises and abrasions spread over his body.

G.W.V.A.L.A. Notes

The G.W.V.A. Auxiliary will hold a special meeting in the G.W.V.A. Hall on Saturday afternoon September 11th for the purpose of discussing the advisability of sending a delegate to the Calgary Convention. All members are asked to make a special effort to be present at this meeting.

Bots In Horses

The Bot is a flesh-eating parasite eating into the lining of the stomach, causing most of the colics and a horse infected with this pest cannot thrive no matter what you feed him.

It will pay you to give every horse on your outfit a dose then with the difference.

"Shur-Ruk" Guaranteed to expel Bots from horses in one dose. This may be a strong statement considering the number of years of experimenting and the unnumbered failures to kill the bots before they killed the horse, but the Fairview Chemical Co. have at last succeeded.

They have appointed us their agents and we are authorized to guarantee success.

Treatment for 8 horses costs $5.00 for four horses $3.00—a gun for administering is included in each treatment.

For sale by The Chauvin Pharmacy Chauvin Alberta.

A. C. GIFFORD
C. P. R. LAND AGENT,

CHAUVIN, ALBERTA.

A Losing Business is no good to us, or to you, or to the district, and we are compelled to make a change

We submit herewith our

NEW SCHEDULE OF RATES

which will go into effect on and after October 1st

Our readers will be able to recall that in November of last year we published an advertisement in which we tabulated the expenses of running this paper and also the average income. This statement showed a weekly deficit.

A critic, after reading that advertisement, asked us how we intended to remedy the state of affairs. We stated that it was our intention to continue until after the next harvest, when we hoped there would be a change in the state of affairs.

We submit to your readers that the Chauvin Chronicle has held the post during that period. It has maintained a standard sufficiently high to gain a First Prize in Open Competition at the Press Convention in May; and has relaxed no efforts to maintain 40 columns of interest each week, lately adding a pictorial department.

During the past twelve months the costs of production have risen more than at any other period, and there is every indication of a long continuance of high costs in newspaper production. It affected all rural newspapers. The matter was fully discussed at the convention in Saskatoon last May, and a representative committee appointed to deal with advertising rates in a thorough scientific and business manner with the object of establishing a uniform advertising rate fair alike to advertiser and publisher.

This committee have now made their report after going into every detail in an exhaustive manner. In common with the other members of the Press Association, we are adopting the new scale of rates and making them effective on and after October 1st.

The receipt of these rates will enable us to publish a newspaper worthy of our town—an eight page all home print, illustrated paper. A paper which will be the week's best event and a drawing card for our district.

If the merchants and business men of Chauvin and district desire to have a paper of this kind, it rests with them. We have the ability, the plant is in splendid running condition.

It takes money, a lot of money, to run a good weekly paper these days. We have no revenue sufficient to do so. Whether we shall have next month or not remains to be seen.

During the months recently past, we have abstained from raising our rates, having in view local conditions. We have stayed with the game without profit; in fact it has been necessary to forego many of the pleasures of life commonly enjoyed by our neighbours. For lack of funds we have been unable to send a member of our staff to any of the special events in the district to do the necessary reporting, nor pay our volunteer reporters; and as above mentioned the rising costs have made our position even less tenable. The new rates however, if accepted by our advertisers, offer us an avenue of escape from this stringency and a prospect of a fair remuneration for our labor.

Remember these rates are official and fair and are being generally adopted. They were not designed specially for use by this one paper, but for every member of the Press Association.

We greatly appreciate the support accorded us in the past, particularly the loyalty shown during the many difficulties of the past two years. We are not out to skin anyone, but if you want a real live, alert paper to prosper in your town, you will have to pay the price—and we believe you will.

W. A. McLEOD, EDITOR OF PUBLICATIONS, REGINA, TELLS OF DIFFICULTIES

At the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Branch of the Canadian Press Association W. A. McLeod, editor of Publications Government of Saskatchewan, presented a careful analysis of the position of the country editor as follows:

This convention is dealing with the editor from many points of view. One speaker has described him as a professional man who deliberately chooses for his life work a poorly paid and exacting profession because of the opportunities it offers for public service. Another has described him as a missionary laboring diligently in search of disciples and followers. The reader's opinion of the editor and his way will be given us by a prominent and discriminating critic. The editor as a community leader and moulder of public opinion will be described by authority on the subject, an authority who a few years ago was just a common garden variety of country editor and is now a Cabinet Minister. The editor as gatherer and distributor of news, a licensed, conventionalized community gossip, will be discussed by one of the ablest news gatherers in our province also a man who graduated from the ranks of the country editor. My task is to deal with the editor as a merchant, his stock in trade so many yards of white paper, the bulk of which he has to sell twice and whose whole stock must be turned over 52 times a year. The general public has no conception of the difficulties which the country editor must overcome if he is to succeed. First of all he should be master of at least two trades. He should be a printer and a pressman. He should have the qualifications of a good politician, but he should not interest himself too actively in politics. It is not unreasonable to ask that he should also know something about the newspaper business and should be able to write advertisements as well as news and editorials. The ideal editor on a small-town, one-man, country newspaper should be an expert printer, an A1 pressman, a man with good judgement and pleasant manners, a clear thinker and a fluent writer, a keen business man and an all round good fellow. It would add to his popularity if he had a private income of his own so that he would not need to continually pester his subscribers and advertisers for the money they owe him. If there are any ideal editors present I wish they would hold up their hands. I would like to meet one.

I regret to report that the editor as a merchant is making a rather poor fist of it. Many editors in Saskatchewan are making a fair living, but I believe that if they worked as hard in almost any other line of business they would earn more money. The newspaper problem has been compared to the State of Vermont, which some native sons described as "The best state in the union to emigrate from. Some editors are making a little money out of their job printing plant, out of insurance business, by selling farm lands, or by farming, but I am forced to believe that the majority of the editors of the province are losing money on the newspaper end of the business. If this is true, and I have gone into the question very thoroughly with editors from all parts of Saskatchewan, this is a serious state of affairs. If only a few merchants in the province were able to make ends meet in their regular line of business, and had to depend on side lines to keep out of bankruptcy, the Saskatchewan Retail Merchants' Association would unquestionably decide that the first and most important duty confronting the association would be to find a remedy for this condition. I am no Moses commissioned to lead you to the promised land, flowing with milk and honey; I am more like John the Baptist, warning you that you are going to get into a peck of trouble if you do not mend your ways.

FACING A SERIOUS PROPOSITION

The editor's business as a merchant is a very complicated one indeed. He must first sell his advertising space to the business men of his community or to national advertisers. He must then secure from these firms the raw material which he has to manufacture into attractive advertisements, and he must then sell the completed product to the readers of the community. While all newspaper publishers have to do this, the editor of a one-man newspaper has the most difficult task, and it is his problem that we should consider first. The weekly papers in our larger towns and cities are facing the same problem of cost of production, continually advancing much faster than advertising rates or subscription rates.

SHALL WE BE FORCED OUT?

It was brought out at the convention, very clearly, that the majority of the weekly newspapers in the province are run at a loss. The job printing end of the business makes up for the deficit incurred in publishing the newspaper.

It was recognized that advertising rates and subscription prices would both need to be advanced or that a considerable number of newspapers would be forced out of business.

Threshing Under Fire Of German Guns In France

That the Alberta harvest has arrived is evidenced by the procession of harvesting machinery that leaves Ryley each day, the sight of which brings back to memory threshing scenes in other lands and under different circumstances.

Many of the men who fed the gaping maw of the ever unsatisfied separator, but a short time since had good reason to wonder if they would ever again hear the whirr of threshing time on the western plains, and to some, doubtless, the picture is still fresh of the gallant women of France, their men folk all at the front, nobly garnering the grain, that meant so much to the invaded territory.

The Germans were shelling Lillers and back of the lines the harvest was in full swing, the long distance shot plowing up the ground where slowly tolling oxen, driven by children were teaming in the stooked grain to the barn yard where the threshor awaited them.

The red topped houses of a typical French village could be seen in the distance surrounded by the usual grove of trees and as the battalion moved over the crest of the hill the unusual sight was witnessed of a steam engine guaging away and turning the wheels of a cumbersome French threshing machine as the German shells screamed overhead while the opposing aeroplanes fought one another in the upper air.

That anyone could be so courageous or imbecillous as to operate a threshor under such conditions caused a flutter of conversation to pass down the ranks of marching men and vigorous comments were passed regarding the sanity of the agriculturists.

The battalion of these bullets in the village that same evening and some of the more curious, when relieved from duty, proceeded to investigate the threshing phenomena which was still going full blast and the amusement of the men may be judged when it was found that the entire crew with the exception of the engineer were women.

No "heroics" were indulged in by the gallant daughters of France. The Doche was only five miles away, and advancing, and they were determined that when he did come at any rate the grain would have been saved and shipped back out of his clutches.

Threshing in France is no light matter for women under any circumstances, as a considerable portion of the cutting is done by hand and the sheaves are consequently of much larger dimensions than those turned out by the nicely regulated automatic binder. In addition the French threshing is fed from the top, by hand, the machine is usually a very huge affair, so that the tossing of the weighty bundles on to the top of the machine is no delicate undertaking. In this type of threshing no feeder or blower is used, the straw tumbling to the ground where it is found in bundles and carried away, for in France nothing is wasted.

The grain is different about a number of different spouts in a variety of grades, and although the machine is a clumsy uncouth appearing contrivance yet it performs the best of work.

In many districts the extremely ancient horse power threshing is used the treadmill section being a part of the machine, while in other districts the work is done entirely by electricity.

In this case a cable half a mile in length or longer connects the threshing in the field or barn with the electric circuit on the main road and is an efficient and economical method. Threshing in England is much on a par with that in France but the equipment is more modern, and steam tractors are used almost exclusively. The English separator is also fed from the top of the machine as a general rule, while the grain is delivered in a number of various grades, the rear end of the separator being equipped with an automatic baler which turns the straw out in neat bundles. The English machine is notable for the amount of care which is expended in its manufacture, and in particular the tractors show fine workmanship, as all parts are hand finished, there being no rough casting such as is met with in Canada. Like the French machines the English are short bodied and high, and a ladder is often requisitioned to allow the workers to reach the feeding platform on top of the machine.

Those westerners who have assisted in the threshing operations of older lands will doubtless have a lively appreciation of the superiority of the apparatus as used in Alberta and though it may be a dusty and toilsome job, yet we have the satisfaction of knowing that we here possess the most modern equipment for separating the grain from the straw and chaff that the mind of man has devised.

Chauvin School Trustees Meeting

I sed to have same done immediately.

Mr. Foxwell reported that the painting had been executed and had been well done. There was still a little work to do in the way of shining staining, but that same would be completed as soon as the stain was to hand.

Mrs. Saul reported that coal shed had been built, and the large school room cleaned, and the plaster repaired. The committee was quite satisfied with the work. The roof of the coal shed was waiting for shingle stain, and would then be completed.

Secretary reported the arrival of the coal as arranged for, and same was now in the coal shed. There was a surplus of 700 pounds over the weight specified in the car. The cost was $3.45 per ton at 14.00.

Accounts—Following accounts were presented:—D. M. Cahill, 29.75; G. Goede, 156.00; A. Herbert, 7.50; A. C. Nachtergaele, 225.00; and Mr. Foxwell moved, Mrs. Saul seconded that these accounts be paid where completed; and that account for gravel be paid when the leveling was done.

Carried.
Fencing—Secretary reported that arrangements had been completed with Mrs. Haas for the use of the land owned by her adjoining the old school site. Mrs. Foxwell moved, Mrs. Saul seconded that the lease be accepted on the terms that we pay the village tax and refund the school tax on the land so leased for the current year, and for the term of the lease; and that Secretary have the necessary papers executed.

Carried.
The west fence is to be moved on the south line, to join up to Mr. McCuskey's fence (permission for which has been granted), the north fence will be carried over to the west line, to join up to Mr. Mansell's fence to be erected from Mr. McCuskey's N. W. corner to Mr. Mansell's S.E. corner. Mrs. Saul was appointed a committee to attend to the work being done; with power to call upon the other trustees if necessary.

Mr. Laws stated that the Chauvin Chronicle was prepared to provide large scribbles for the pupils at 14.50 per 100 of 160 pages each, if the Trustees would advance the money and attend to the collection of the same from the pupils. Dr. Folkins moved, Mrs. Saul seconded, that the Board provide the money and that Mr. Law have one of his scholars to take charge of the sale of the scribbles and turn the money into the Board again.

Spelling match: Mr. Laws reported that the Chauvin Chronicle was showing a lively interest in the progress of the school children, and that Mr. L. D'Albertson had expressed a desire to have about twenty children come to Chauvin from the Edgerton district for the purpose of trimming them in a spelling match; and that he was willing to contribute up to $10.00 for transportation. The matter was discussed; and Mrs. Saul moved, Mr. Foxwell seconded, that Mr. Laws and the secretary be a committee to make preliminary arrangements for such a match on these conditions. Carried.
Mr. Foxwell thought it was incumbent on the Board to see that a suitable place was arranged for where the match could take place. Mr. Foxwell was appointed a committee for the purpose of attending to the necessary accommodation.

School Fair: Mr. Laws and the trustees then discussed the advisability of holding a school fair next year, in preference to trying the school garden plan. Secretary was instructed to call upon the department when next in Edmonton and obtain the necessary particulars in preparation.

Chairman Polkins suggested that each trustee should take turn in visiting the schools, as the Board would then be better able to judge as to the general conduct and discipline in that way.

Chairman then declared the meeting closed.
